Area(s) of Expertise

- I have been the headteacher at St Malachy's for the past 5 years and prior to that a deputy head for 7 years. From being an NQT I have always worked in school's situated in areas of high social deprivation and taught children that would be considered disadvantaged. This has given me a genuine understanding of the challenges that vulnerable families face and also a determination that nothing must stand in the way of our children having the best possible Catholic Education.
- I have created a school built on a culture of high expectations and all staff share the belief that we have a responsibility to provide a broad, fulfilling and rewarding curriculum that allows every child to shine in any way they can.
- I am supported by a positive and enthusiastic leadership team who lead their areas with great skill and drive through school improvement priorities with rigorous monitoring and a willingness to support and develop others. We have grown a team of young teachers supporting them through the Initial Teacher Training Programme who have gone on to become outstanding teachers.
- I'm very excited about working with colleagues from different schools and will be as supportive and helpful as possible.
